REFLECTIONS

We all came
from different backgrounds,
with different ideas,
and different goals in mind.
We were united,
as the class of 1973.
We met many new friends,
And together
we went through four long years, in which we experienced
many times of joy,
as well as times of sorrow.
It was also a time in which
many things were changed,
or at least, revised.
We planned and participated in dances, activities, and a few outings.
They were long and eventful years,
but now that they have passed,
they seemed so short.
All that remains of them are memories,
And these, are recorded here,
in our Reflections of our years
at Wilmington High.

Reflections 1973

Wilmington High School

Wilmington, Mass.

Mounted memories,
precious moments captured by a fleeting flash.
Gaze here on the brilliance of youth,
Search here for the hope of the world,
Remember these as the trials and triumphs that molded a generation,
And feel the warmth, vitality, and real beauty of life . . .

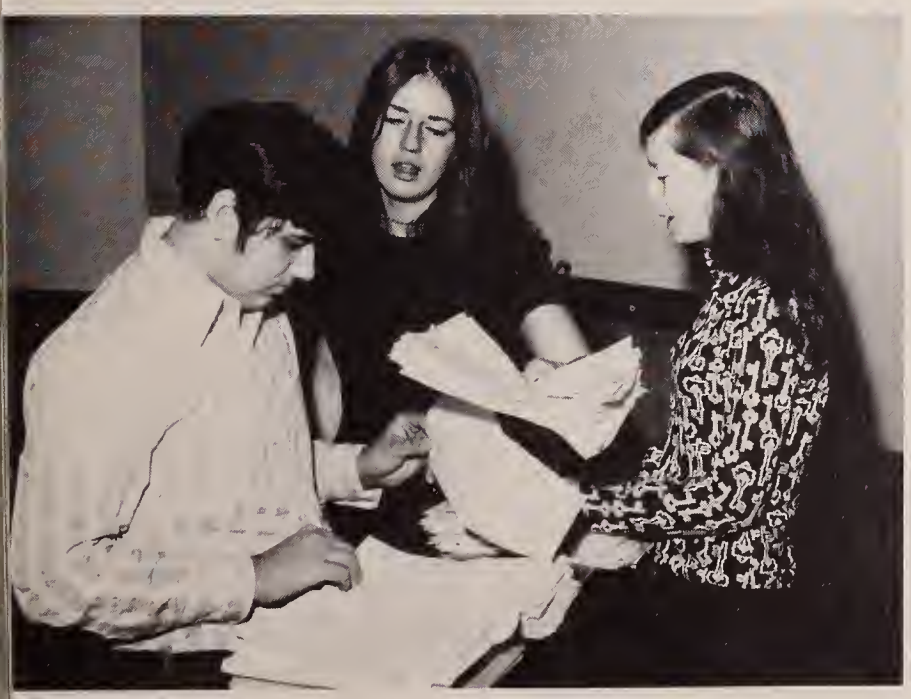
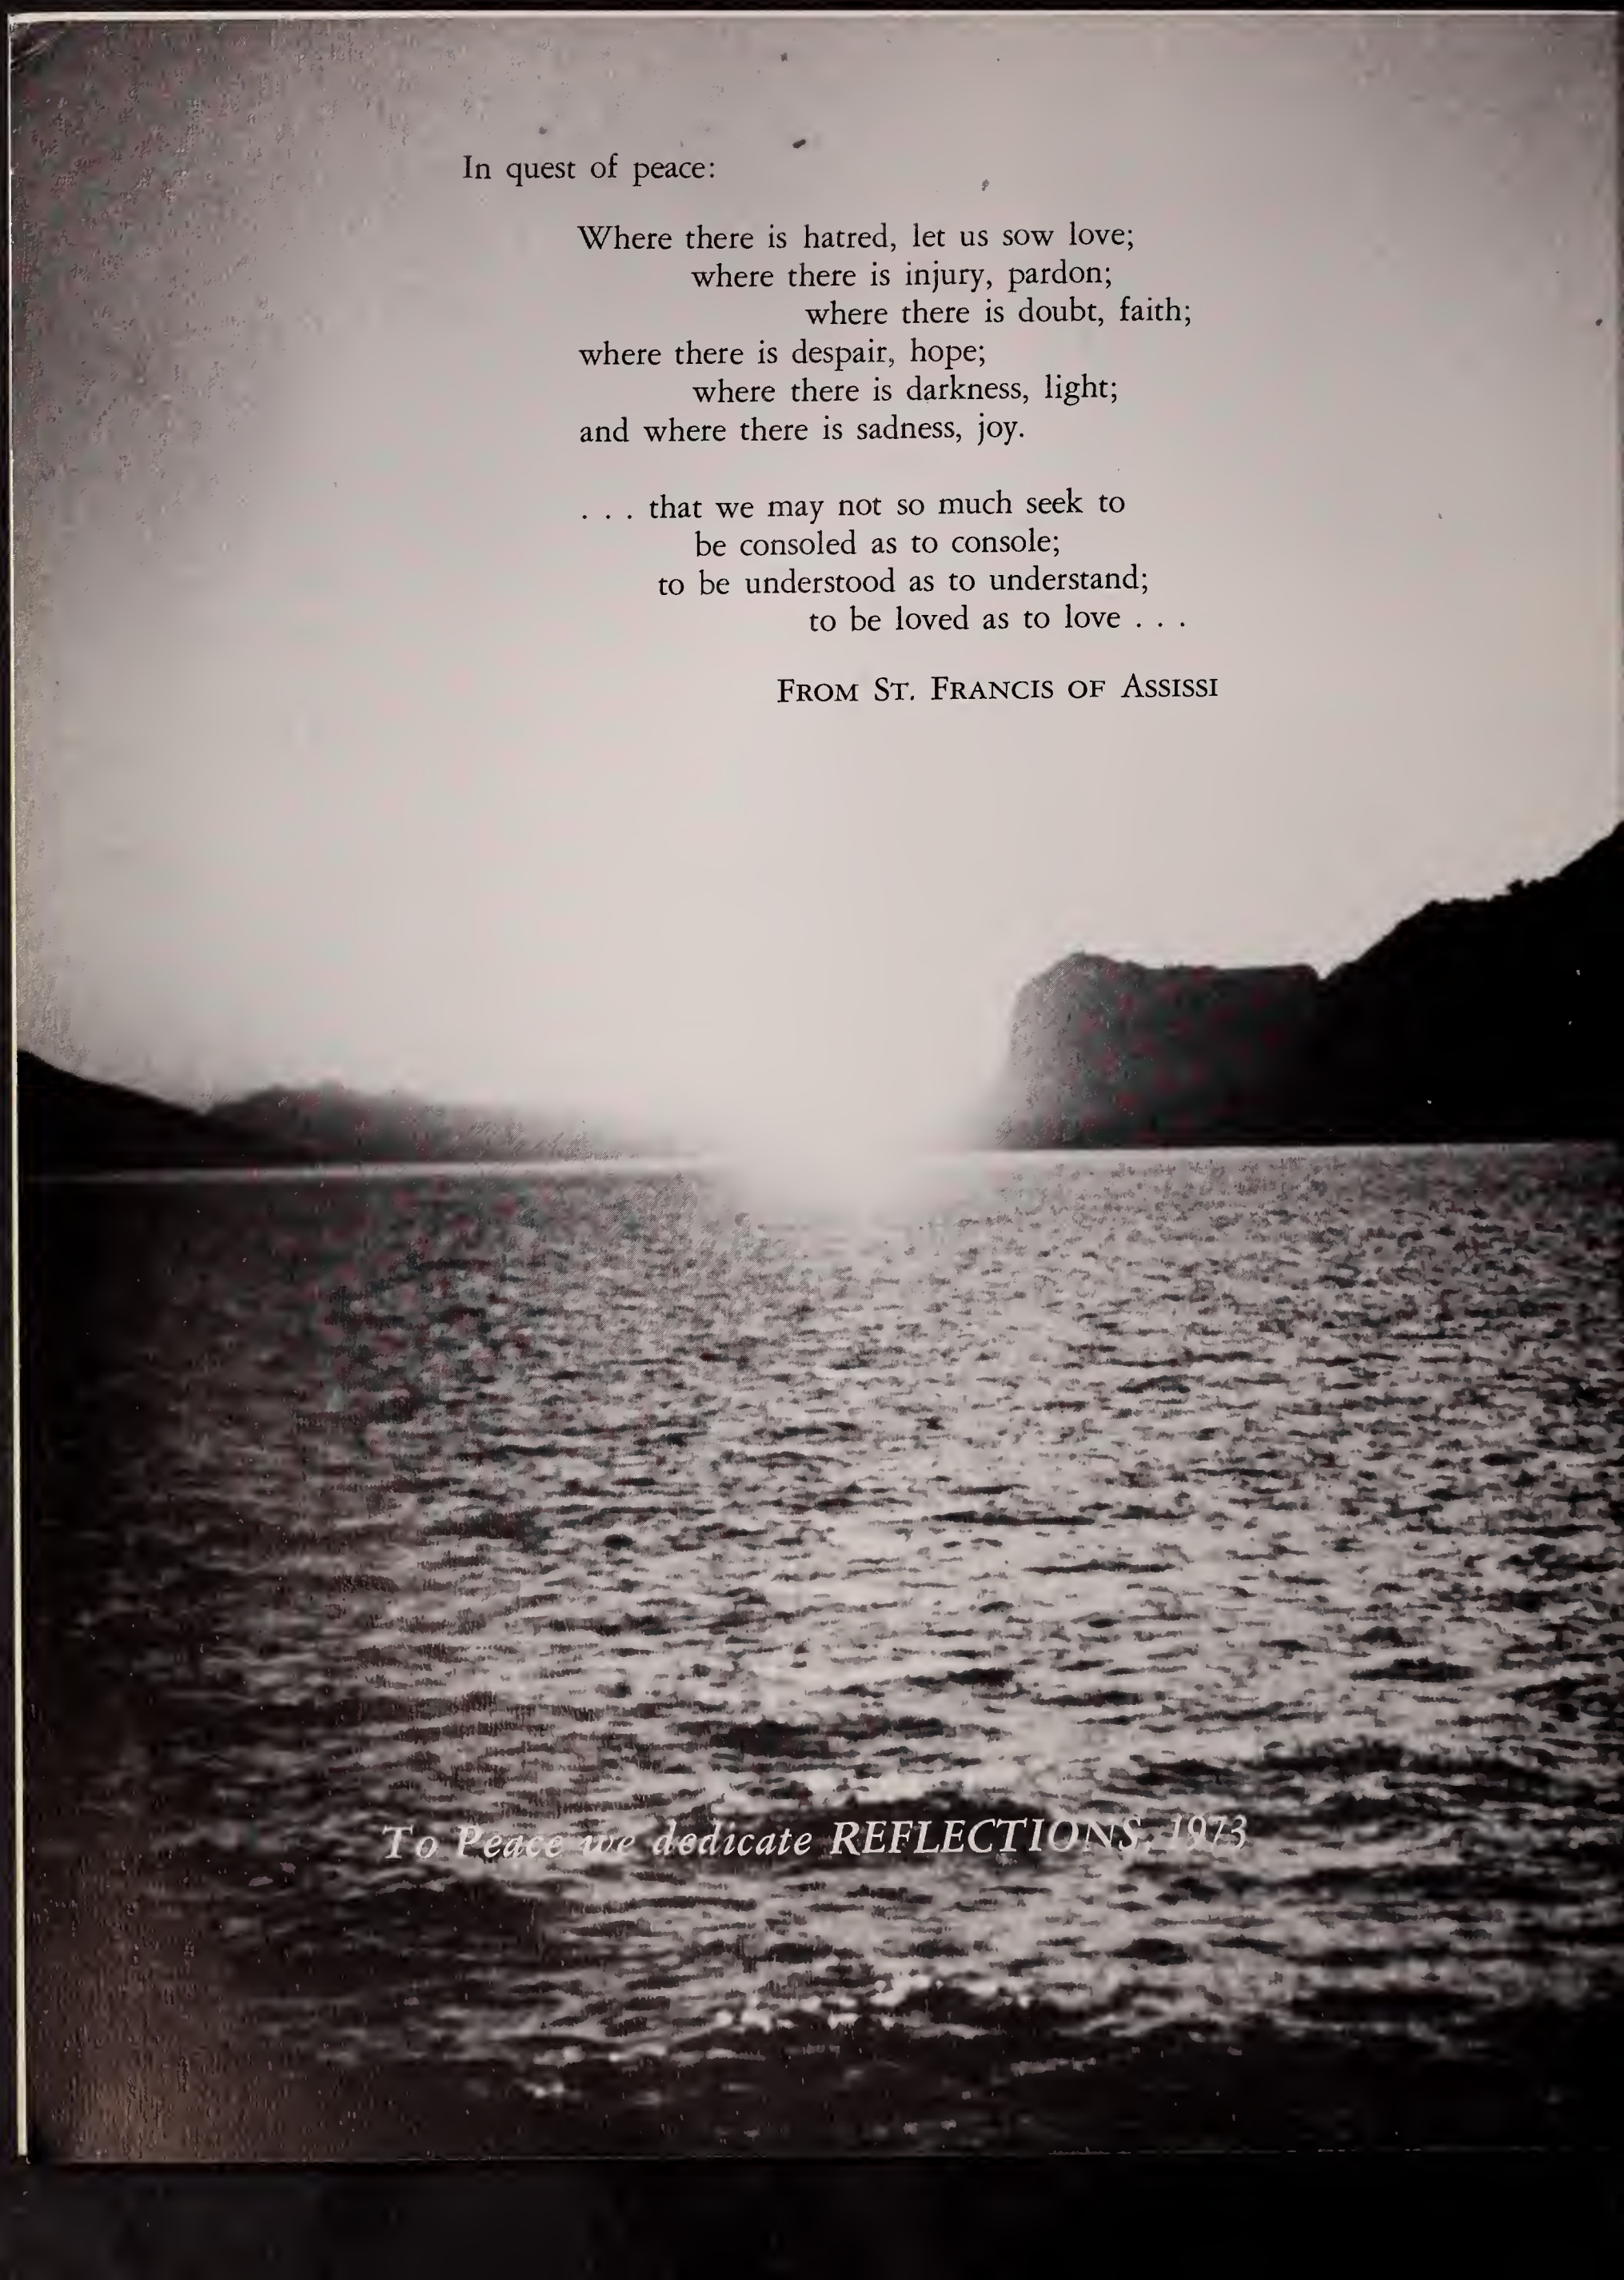
SPRING SUPPLEMENT 121





In quest of peace:

Where there is hatred, let us sow love;
where there is injury, pardon;
where there is doubt, faith;
where there is despair, hope;
where there is darkness, light;
and where there is sadness, joy.

. . . that we may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
to be understood as to understand;
to be loved as to love . . .

CLASS ADVISOR

In September, 1969, it was new to all of us; four years later it was all rather routine. But in the middle there was a lot of growing and working and succeeding and failing to be done, both for our class and for our Class Advisor, Mr. Carl Olsson. A Class Advisor is an underpaid and overworked teacher who agrees to help direct a class because of his concern for the students of that class. Mr. Olsson fits this criterion. His tireless work on such projects as the J.V. Show, Senior Class Play, and on all our patrons drives have been instrumental to the success of these projects. His concern has been felt by all who have come into contact with him. So to our Class Advisor, Carl Olsson, we extend our sincere and heartfelt thanks and best wishes.
